Facebook for Characters: Students use a notebook to create a Facebook page for each character as they read through a novel. They sketch the character for their profile picture. They add “contacts” for the character (all of the other characters in the book as they interact with one another). They add status updates as the character moves through the novel. They make new Facebook pages for each new character as they are introduced throughout the text. They can also sketch photos for the character to add to their profile
